Financial Stewardship and Policies

Bobbye Brooks and Tonilee Adamson founded Daily Disciples Ministries with a mission to teach the Bible to women and show its applicability to their daily lives. Their teaching has expanded from in-person Bible studies to daily radio programs, videos, online devotionals, teaching CDs and DVDs, as well as women's events hosted throughout various cities. As can be seen through their interactive website, they have a heart to give the gospel message for free. Free online audio files, radio programs, videos and devotionals are available to anyone at any time. Though asking for financial support is necessary at times, the heart of Daily Disciples is to freely give to others while they in turn freely and cheerfully give to the ministry. We thank you for your support and encouragement through your freewill offerings.

As financial stewards of your gifts and offerings, Daily Disciples Ministries:

- Prays for God's guidance in every major expenditure
- Works to keep expenses in balance with income and budgetary goals
- Works with outside counsel on all legal, tax, and financial accountability
- Asks that you pray and seek God's wisdom in every gift of any type to this ministry.
